Posted by TBN On 11/21/2006

The principal at Leonardtown Middle School received a note conveying a bomb threat at the school late this morning. By 12 noon the school had already been emptied of students.

A K-9 team was requested and responded to the school to search the site for explosives.

At 1:10 p.m. a representative from Brad Clements' office at St. Mary's County Public Schools told The Bay Net students were back in classes and the regular school day would continue, with students heading home via their normal transportation methods and at the regular time.
