

Weather Alert: FLOOD WATCH in Effect Until This Afternoon for Southern Maryland

Posted by TBN On 06/05/2009

According to the National Weather Service, a FLASH FLOOD WATCH is in effect until later this afternoon for all of Southern Maryland.

Rain will continue through late afternoon before tapering off this evening. Rainfall totals of 1 to 3 inches are expected. The period of heaviest rainfall is expected to occur this morning into early afternoon. Due to recent rainfall, the ground is already saturated and little additional rainfall will be needed to produce flooding.
