Mike Huckabee, former Governor of Arkansas, has endorsed Charles Lollar, candidate for the 5th Congressional District of Maryland, in his race for the US House of Representatives against Steny Hoyer, House Majority Leader.

In the statement released by the PAC, Huckabee stated, "Huck PAC and I are proud to support Charles Lollar for Congress from Maryland's 5th Congressional District. Many elected officials and candidates have forgotten that character counts – but not Charles Lollar. His campaign for Congress is based on trust and integrity and if elected – he'll bring them both to Washington."

After Huckabee's campaign for the Republican nomination for President in 2008, he created HuckPac to assist candidates running for office nationwide. Huckabee supports candidates who are passionate about tax reform, a strong national defense, real border security, life, the family, less government, and individual liberty.

Last week, Mitt Romney also endorsed Lollar in his bid for a House seat. Romney, the former governor of Massachusetts and the founder of the Free and Strong America PAC, has been lending support to candidates around the nation, and chose Lollar because of Lollar's sound economic principles and his dedication to his country. Romney himself achieved distinction for strengthening the economy, supporting the military, and encouraging strong families.

Lollar has also earned endorsements from the National Vietnam and Gulf War Veterans Coalition, the Maryland Right to Life, and the Citizens United Political Victory Fund. The National Vietnam and Gulf War Veterans Coalition endorsed Lollar unanimously, stating, "As veterans, we served to protect our nation, and, although we are concerned about veterans issues, we continue to be focused, like you, on "What can we do for our country." The Coalition serves 75 veterans organizations with a combined membership of over 250,000 members and their key focus is supporting candidates with a strong emphasis on national security.

The Maryland Right to Life organization has endorsed Lollar as one of their candidates for the general election on November 2. Maryland Right to Life has sought protections for the unborn and for vulnerable members of society and supports candidates who value the life of all persons.

The Citizens United Political Victory Fund is the PAC associated with Citizens United, and is supporting candidates for federal office who are committed to reducing the size of government, lowering taxes, cutting spending, promoting traditional family values, and keeping America safe.

"I am honored by all these endorsements," Lollar stated. "I felt I needed to continue serving my country by running for public office. Having people take a public stand on my behalf is one of the most humbling and yet energizing experiences there is. It is because of people like these that we will win."
