

Maryland Humanities Presents 24th Year of Living History Series

Posted by Sarah Weissman On 07/05/2018

Baltimore, MD – Maryland Humanities brings Frederick Douglass, Thurgood Marshall, and Eleanor Roosevelt back to life through its program, Chautauqua: Seeking Justice. Actor-scholars portraying these three giants of social justice will travel to eight counties throughout the state, from July 5 until July 15. The Charles County performances are hosted at the College of Southern Maryland, La Plata, located at 8730 Mitchell Road.

Chautauqua celebrates its 24th season this summer. Living history performances by actor-scholars are followed by question and answer sessions which spark spirited conversation and provide educational family fun. The Thurgood Marshall performance features an excerpt from the George Stevens, Jr. play, Thurgood, and will be followed by a dialogue with Dr. Lenneal Henderson. Henderson, an internationally recognized scholar, brought Marshall to life in the 2010 Maryland Humanities Chautauqua tour. Every Chautauqua performance is free and open to the public and opens with live local musical and theatrical acts. The schedule for the Charles County performances is as follows:

July 10 at 6:45 PM: Frederick Douglass

July 11 at 6:45 PM: Eleanor Roosevelt

July 12 at 6:45 PM: Thurgood Marshall

Learn more about Chautauqua at www.mdhumanities.org/chautauqua.

Chautauqua is supported in part by Old Line Bank, Baltimore County Commission on the Arts and Sciences, Talbot County Arts Council (with funds from the Maryland State Arts Council), and Karen and Langley Shook.

Copyright © 2019 thebaynet.com. All rights reserved.