Charles County, MD -- Charles County Public Schools is celebrating the opening of the new Billingsley Elementary as it implements the new statewide redistricting plan for elementary schools.

Billingsley Elementary School, home of the Bobcats, is located off Billingsley Road in White Plains. The school is expected to open September. 3 with about 700 students.

The Board of Education approved a redistricting plan in 2018 to create an attendance zone for Billingsley and alleviate overcrowding at other elementary schools.

If you're not sure what school zone your child attends, use the School Locator feature on the CCPS website: <https://www.ccboe.com/index.php/school-locator2>.
